

AMERICAN EAGLE TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

PRIVACY POLICY

In the course of our business, we frequently receive nonpublic personal information regarding individuals and companies. Only authorized employees are permitted access to this information. Such employees may access such information only for the purposes of serving the customer. Employees who violate the company privacy policy will be subject to discipline.

We will not reveal private personal information to any external organization except for purposes related to the transaction unless we have previously informed the customer and have been authorized by the customer. We will not sell or rent this information without the consent of the customer.

The customer is welcome to review the information we have concerning them. In most cases the customer receives copies of most of the information we have shortly after the closing. We will respond to requests for consumers to review this information. If any of our information is incorrect, the customer may correct federal and state regulations in order to assure that this information is protected from unauthorized disclosure and use.

Whenever we hire other organizations to provide support services, we will require them to conform to our privacy standards and to allow us to confirm their compliance.

We collect nonpublic information on customers from the following sources:

1. Information from the customer, including but not limited to name, address, telephone number, or social security number.
2. Information about your transaction from the lender, attorney, real estate salesperson, or other person.
3. Information from the public records.

Periodically we will destroy out of date information in a responsible manner.

We gather information in some cases for the benefit of others. In those instances, we will comply with the more restrictive of the privacy policies of the companies.
